LOGAN DRY GOODS CO

All Around The Town.

Taffy for "Ham."

Danville News:—That consummate politician, James Hamilton, was down yesterday from Lancaster and paid a pleasant call to the News office. He went over to Mt. Sterling last Saturday and was very much pleased with the way in which Chairman Allie W. Young handled the warring forces. He thinks that Mr. Young is one of the shrewdest politicians and parliamentarians in the State.

There was no bid for the Crab Orchard Springs property, and the sale was declared off.

Bankrupt Law Amended.

The President has signed the bill which amends the bankruptcy law of 1898. The bill modifies the existing law several important particulars, the principal one of which is a provision in regard to preferred creditors. Under the existing law those who had received pay from persons who had afterwards been declared a bankrupt could not have other claims passed upon without surrendering the amount received. This provision was modified so as to allow the creditor to retain the money received unless the previous payment was fraudulent.

Kind Words for Lancaster People.

The Kirschweng correspondent to the Richmond Climax says: The greatest attraction of the season was the delightful play, "The Last Leaf," given by Lancaster people at Shepherd's hall Friday night. The crowd was good in spite of the bad weather, and it was pronounced the best play given here this season. Lookout for the Lancaster troupe again. They were so well pleased with our magnificent hall and the audience was so pleased with "The Last Leaf" that Manager Shepherd will likely have them repeat the performance.

Christian Sunday School's Tribute.

On last Sunday forenoon, Mr. H. A. B. Marksby, Supt. of the Sunday School at the Christian church spoke at length, and with much feeling, in reference to the departure of Rev. A. R. Moore, referring to him as the shepherd of the Sunday school as well as the church, and the pastor of both alike. In behalf of teachers and pupils, he thanked the retiring minister for the valuable help he had rendered in conducting the school, and leading the children in the ways of eternal life, expressing a wish that he would be blessed in his new field of labor.

The Loyal Temperance League will meet with Mrs. George M. Patterson Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

What Up-To-Date Do. If a man brings you an account drawn off on a cheap hand-me-down tablet book form, you can put him down as just that kind of a man in every other respect—too "short" to make pie crust. Up-to-date business men use printed stationery.

Five Years Old.

The Somerset Journal has passed its 5th milestone, and like good wine, improves with age. Our good old friend, Editor Ceph Campbell, has the happy way of mixing enough spice into his matter to get it out of the old sleepy cut-and-dried way, and it is a pleasure to read after him. "Ceph's paper" is one of our exchanges which is always stuffed into our pocket to take home and read Sunday afternoons.

In Danger.

While Senator Farris was being shaved in a mountain town, the crowd in the barber shop was talking of some raids that had been made on whiskey dens in the town, when the barber, who was shaving the Senator, said: "That is caused by that cursed Farris law, and the author of it ought to have his d--n throat cut." Of course he didn't know the Senator, but as the latter felt the steel crawling over his face, he pretended to be sleeping and, very properly swallowed the remark.

About Printing.

We have just completed a new telephone directory card, which, to sing our own praises, is a beauty. It required 450 sheets 22x28 tough check board, a n d, 3,300 impressions. The pages contain local ads, and we cannot refrain from blowing our own horn on the job. This office can print anything you want in the printing line. All we want is a fair chance. If you want information on our work, go to people who have been some where and know what they are talking about. Don't ask some 2x4 whippersnapper who don't know white paper from gin-seng, and who should be pulling the bell cord over a mule.

They're the Staff.

The Record cannot refrain from praising the City Council for going ahead and attending to the city's affairs without toadying to any of the many wisecracks who would like to hold the town by the tail with a down-hill pull. This council is doing what it believes is for the interest of the whole community, and does not propose to be bull-rugged about it, either. There are some guys here, and in all little towns, who object to anything and everything, but they cut no ice now. We have the best town in the state, and the fact that we have a Council that is pulling together is the source of much gratification.

Circuit Court.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Siler was called Tuesday morning, and it required only a short time to exhaust the regular panel in the effort to secure a jury. Adjournment was taken until Wednesday and the sheriff sent to summon more men for examination. The twelve were chosen yesterday, (Wednesday,) and the trial commenced. There are a great many witnesses, and it will take some time to complete the case. The Commonwealth is represented by the regular attorney, Jno Sam Owsley, county attorney, J. L. Hamilton, W. I. Williams, J. E. Robinson, W. McC Johnson, and Gov. Bradley. The defense is represented by J. T. Hays, R. H. Tomlinson, J. M. Rothwell, L. L. Walker and Col. W. G. Welch. The case will consume the balance of the week. Court will continue in session next week, there being enough business to take up all of the week. The grand jury has adjourned, having found about the usual number of indictments.

"Big Jim" Parker.

James B. Parker, the Negro who seized and assisted in the capture of the assassin of President McKinley an instant after the firing of the cruel shots, will lecture before a large crowd at the courthouse tonight, (Thursday) Parker is a big athletic looking man, fully six feet six inches tall, and a blow from his brawny fist would have felled such a small, miserable, creature as Czolgosz could have divined his purpose before it was too late. Parker is well dressed, wears a silk hat, and presents a decidedly clerical appearance. He was born at Atlanta, Ga., in 1857 and was at one time a mail carrier in that city. He begins the lecture by reciting the incidents of the day relative to the President's visit to Buffalo. He tells how Czolgosz proceeded towards the President stopping out his arm to keep him (Parker) from getting in front. He being at hand saw the look pass over the President's face as he looked at the assassin when the two shots were fired. He told of his struggle with Czolgosz, how he delivered him two stunning blows which prevented the murderer from firing the third shot at the President. In closing his talk Parker says: "I simply did as any of you would have done. I simply did the duty that one man owes another."

Conductor Bruised Up.

In a wreck on the K. D. last week, our old friend, Capt. Jim Douglass, was considerably bruised up. He runs the "short dog" between Corbin and Jellico, and is as clever a gentleman as ever pulled a bell cord.

"Go" to His Nibs.

A Louisville gentleman wrote to a Lancaster business man, and at the bottom of the letter added, "Come down this week and we will go see Hurr." The Lancaster man's wife got hold of the letter, and believing the "u" was substituted for the "e" as a blind, collared hubby, and the fur flew.

A Successful Newspaper.

The Mt. Vernon Signal blossomed out as a seven column folio last week, and is indeed a thing of beauty and a joy forever. Edgar Albright, the clever editor and publisher, deserves great credit for his untiring efforts, and the people of Rockcastle should appreciate his noble work for the county's advancement. Edgar has the energy, the stick-at-itiveness, and plenty of friends who stand by him.

Should Have No Opposition.

Danville News:—Circuit Clerk Graham Price announces in this issue of the News his candidacy for re-election to that office. Mr. Price has filled that place to the eminent satisfaction of the people and particularly to the court and lawyers. He is peculiarly fitted for this place by reason of the fact that he is a graduate of law and knows all of the requirements of the office. This is one office that should be filled by a lawyer, as it requires one to be able to wait upon the Court, draw the orders, etc. He is one of the most sterling young Democrats in the county and should be endorsed by the party. Here's hoping that he will meet with the success he deserves.

Danville Mason's to Build.

Advocate:—The new Masonic Hall to be erected in connection with Mr. H. J. Farris' big building on Third street, contemplates features the most desirable for the modern secret order. This hall will be erected independently of the remainder of the building and will belong to the Masonic Lodge. It embraces three main rooms, consisting of a lodge hall in the front of the building, which will be 8x46 feet; an armory and banquet hall in the rear of the building, 49x19 feet, and a Praelate room between the lodge and armory, 35x12 feet. In addition to these are a candidate's room, Tyler's room and kitchen. The total cost of the new hall will be between three and four thousand dollars.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

The recently elected officers of the Lancaster W. C. T. U., have been installed, and are as follows: Mrs. W. O. Bradley, president; Mrs. R. A. Stone, vice-president; Miss Olivia Sweeney, recording secretary; Miss Ida May Grant, corresponding secretary; vice-presidents from churches, Methodist, Mrs. R. G. Ward, Presbyterian, Mrs. Chumbley, Baptist, Mrs. Wolford, Christian, Mrs. Fanny Farra. Saturday will be observed as Neal Dow's birthday, Mrs. Farra conducting the meeting. The Union regrets giving up Mrs. Moore, and feels that it sustains great loss in her departure. We heartily commend her to the Union at Birmingham. All members who have not paid their dues will please call on the treasurer.

An Independent Man.

An exchange very truthfully says: "The only business that can stand the test of the time and circumstances is the ownership of a free and clear farm. A man may work at a manufacturing business half of his life time and suddenly a better invention may shut up his works. A man may spend his life as a merchant, local misfortune beyond his control may put him through the bankruptcy court. A man may work as an employee of a business half a lifetime and be a competent, faithful servant to his employer, and suddenly he is fired, because his company has consolidated with another. The owner of a clear farm is unassailable. He may not have all the luxuries of life but he is dead sure to obtain the necessities and he cannot be discharged or ruined."

Change on Knoxville Division.

It is reported in railway circles that a new time card will be made on the Knoxville branch soon, which will make the Louisville train about 14 hours later through Stanford. No's. 23 and 24 will run on to Norton, Va., instead of stopping at Middlesboro, and to do this, will require the Louisville train to run that much later. This will make the meeting point at Brodhead instead of Junction City, and dinner will be taken there. Railroad men move in a mysterious way, their objects to perform. When we attempted to have the K. C. day trains run to Rowland and connect with Nos. 23 and 24, we were turned down because, as an official said, "we cannot have 24 get into Louisville any later than at present." As our plan put it there one hour later, and the rumored new one puts it the 1 1/2 hour later, the first excuse don't hold good. As the K. C. trains will be closer together at Rowland, and the needed hour later for 24 will be at hand, we don't see why the K. C. day trains cannot now be had here.

Look at yellow label on this paper.

Tough on the "Tiges."

The warfare on blind tiges has been pushed steadily on, and today its a safe bet that there's not a drop of liquor on the Chute. Not only the town authorities, but the grand jury and Uncle Sam have taken a hand, and the tiger operator is not reposing on flowery beds of ease, by any means, nor have the hoodlums the nerve to make their bold assertions of what "shall" and what "shall not" be done. We understand the grand jury has found something like a cart load, more or less, of true bills, and as the evidence is all good, it will be many years before those indictments are all tried and the time served out. Uncle Sam will then nail each offender, so a rocky road lies in front of the illicit whiskey sellers.

McKinley Memorial Association.

Postmaster W. T. West has received from the McKinley National Memorial Association a limited supply of the certificates which have been prepared for distribution to contributors to the monument fund as souvenirs of their participation in that great enterprise. The certificate is a beautiful work of art on which is given an excellent reproduction of Mrs. McKinley's favorite likeness of her husband, together with a picture of the McKinley home in Canton and of the White House. The wording below the illustration is as follows: "This certifies that has contributed to the fund for the erection of the national memorial at Canton, Ohio, in honor of William McKinley." The workmanship and artistic effects are of the very highest order, the great house of Tiffany & Co., New York, being the designers and manufacturers. The supply in the hands of Postmaster W. T. West is a portion of the first edition of the certificates and is sent here to enable those who have not as yet contributed to do so. Parties who have already identified themselves with the movement will receive souvenirs direct from the office of the Association or through local committees.

Sam Owsley set the Precedent.

The recent jury verdict in St. Louis where a man was convicted and sent to the penitentiary for life and twenty years longer, was forestalled by Commonwealth's Attorney J. Sam Owsley. He had a man indicted for stealing and sentenced to five years on the first count; on the second the defendant was found guilty and given double the time of the first verdict, making fifteen years; then he was indicted for a third offense and tried at the same time, found guilty and given a life sentence under the statute providing that penalty for a third conviction. This made his sentence confinement for life and fifteen years longer. This occurred a few years ago in Lincoln county. It is useless to go out of Kentucky for precedents. The St. Louis judge is slow.

The Inter-Urban Road.

Work will begin soon on the electric road from Lexington to Richmond. An effort is being made to secure the right of way through the farms along side of the pike. It is hoped to get the road built to the river this year.

Shredded Corn for Horses.

Tests of shredded corn fodder as feed for horses have been made at several experiment stations, and the estimate varies at from 50 to 100 per cent. value compared with timothy—the usual standard. At the Vermont station corn fodder gave as good results as timothy with work stock. For idle horses it proved to be rather more indigestible than timothy. In this, however, all tests agree; corn fodder is altogether too valuable for hay to be permitted to dry up in the field, as is the custom in the southwest.

Parting Words.

The high repute in which Rev. Allen R. Moore is held by his congregation and the community at large, was evinced by the large crowd which attended services at the Christian church last Sunday forenoon and evening, that being the time for delivering his farewell sermon to his congregation. The sermons were both very impressive and had a deep effect upon the audiences. A farewell reception was given in the church on Monday evening, when all denominations joined in bidding Rev. Moore and his excellent wife, adieu, and wishing them well in their new home, Birmingham, where he takes charge of a large congregation and enters into a larger field of labor, where he will doubtless do much good, as he has done here and elsewhere.

A Pointer for Farmers.

An agricultural writer impresses upon farmers the importance of aiming and working to secure the very best in every line of produce he turns out. He says. It costs as much to raise a scrub animal of any kind as it does to raise the best, and the difference in the selling price is often as much as 100 per cent. It just the same grains, fruits and vegetables. It really pays only to sow the best seed! The margin of difference the poor fat steer and the good fat steer is hardly ever less than $2 per hundred weight and often has as much as $4. The difference between a cow which makes 125 pounds of butter a year and one which makes 325 pounds is the difference between a cow which runs you into debt and one which will bring you a net profit of over $50. The barrel of choice apples will sell for $4 when culls of the same varieties have to go to the cider mill. There will be ten men who will persist in raising the poor stuff where there is one who raises the best. Why not be that one?—Maysville Bulletin.

They Will be Here. Candidates for state offices will be here in full force next court day. The number is increasing daily, and it wouldn't be a bad idea to quarantine against them.

NO INDICTMENT

Found Against Editor W. B. Brewer and His Son Clarence.

The Christian county jury which closed its labors last Saturday of a two weeks session, after a thorough investigation of the charges against Editor W. B. Brewer, and his son, Clarence, for shooting and wounding Tom Mobley eight times last October, refused to indict them. Mobley had bullied the Brewers for nearly three years and made life a burden to them, by cursing and abusing the editor every time he filled up on whiskey, which ended in the Brewers shooting him as stated above. Thus it will be seen that even editors sometimes grow tired of whines and slurs of some of the people. Mr. Brewer was a peaceable man, never intentionally wounding any one's feelings, and because he was not "blowing" like the average bully, he was taken for a coward. Editors are always at the same old stand, and if you "have it in" for them, you always know where to find them, so be manly enough to talk to their faces and not behind their backs.

CENTRAL RECORD.

LOUIS LANDRAM.

Entered at the Post Office in Lancaster, Ky., as Second-Class Mail Matter.

Lancaster, Ky. March 20, 1903.

"Why did the General take you on his staff?" a young Russian was asked recently. "Oh, because I could carve a turkey so well." Another man was promoted because he could sing so well. Another because he was so good at concocting strange drinks. If the same question were asked here in America, the answer would be, "Because I control votes." That's what it takes to get a position here in the home of the brave and land of the blessed.

An exchange devotes half a column to "wondering" why women don't catch cold from wearing low-neck dresses. There's no lengthy argument about it—they are simply accustomed to crawling out of bed every morning, and clad in their "nitesy" build a fire for a trifling husband to get up and dress by. That's the "cause why."

In looking through our exchanges we ran across this excellent definition: "The so-called philanthropist of the day is one who skins, robs and plunders his fellow men for forty years to lay up a vast fortune, then hires a press agent to inform the world that he is giving away a few dollars here and there to charity."

The Louisville Critic has been revived, with brilliant Daniel E. O'Sullivan as editor. There may be better writers than Mr. O'Sullivan, but it has never been our pleasure to read after one.

A Missouri judge has refused to sentence two women prisoners because "the jail has no apartment suitable for ladies," and the Louisville Times says vaunted Southern chivalry, thank God, is not a thing of the past.

Upon his return to Louisville, last week, Dr. Hunter was given a big banquet by his republican friends. We presume miniature gum shoes were placed at each plate as souvenirs.

Mrs. Charles Kindred died at the home of her mother, Mrs. Hannah Shockley, Saturday night. The death was peculiarly sad. Charlie left his wife in apparently good health, while he, with several other friends, went fishing on Silver Creek. Early in the night their baby, two months old and lying on the bed, made some very unusual demonstration which greatly frightened its mother, who ran to the bed and called to her mother that the little one was dying. On reaching the bedside her mother tried to assure her there was nothing wrong with the little one, but the younger mother fell and died almost immediately. Mrs. Kindred had for years been a member of the M. E. church here, and was a good christian woman. Her husband and two little ones have the sympathy of the entire community in this sad and sudden bereavement.

Colds Are Dangerous.

How often you hear it remarked: "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. It always cures and is pleasant to take. Sold by all druggists. 1m

Christian Church Reception. A farewell reception was given Monday night by the church to its retiring pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Allen R. Moore. Notwithstanding the stormy night, the invitations to pastors and congregations of sister churches were heartily responsive. Exercises were held in Auditorium of the Church presided by W. I. Williams who presented Rev. Mr. Chumley of Presbyterian Church and Dr. Pearce of Methodist Church as fraternal messengers of their churches. Bro Chumley's address was very happy. Rev. Mr. Woolford of Baptist Church was absent through illness. Mr. Williams on behalf of the Christian Church closed the exercises in feeling remarks appreciative of presence of sister churches and relation sustained by the retiring pastor. After the addresses, refreshments were served by ladies in the Church parlors. At request of the Record, Dr. Pearce's address is given to our readers as below. "It is with cordiality the invitation is responded to by the speaker and the good people he serves in being present to this expression of regard for the retiring pastor of this congregation. True religion introduces and bonds people with each other in all climes and through all ages. Gospel comradeship with my brother minister, your pastor, has been the pleasure of only a few months past. From the first our acquaintance was pleasurable in the tie of ministerial brotherhood. Later I knew him better. No long years of neighborhood were necessary. No formalities subscribed were needful for fraternal confidence for each other. It was a trumpet call to gospel battle under leadership of a Divine Leader, that at once knit heart and hand together. It sometimes takes a Saul of Sin to more fully develop and invigorate the David and Jonathan bond of love. In present case it was mutual battle against the Saul of the saloon and blind tiger of vice that led to a nearer fraternal tie. No comradeship among men develops nobler ties in the flesh than those of earthly battle fields; no tie among men today should have more hallowed inspiration than that which calls to conflict under the leadership of our Lord. "The record of your pastor's fidelity to his trust, it may be fraternally submitted, increases your own religious accountability. Every congregation served by a faithful minister should give evidence earthward and heavenward, that a gain has come to them; in higher standard of christian conscience, in more sacred bond of home and church, in duties of citizenship, in kindness to each other, in sympathy and rescue for the perishing, "for the night cometh in which no man can work." In taking leave of this faithful minister we therefore cannot say "good-bye" to the example he has given us or the moral witness he has left behind him. That has already gone on to the Book Day of eternal account that confronts all later, even though we forget or dismiss it here—a Day to which all are hastening. And as for awhile we extend the parting hand to our brother what better benediction can we invoke for him than that recited in the Word of Grace—"The Lord bless thee and keep thee; the Lord make his face to shine upon thee and be gracious unto thee; the Lord lift his countenance upon thee and give thee peace."

Dangers of Pneumonia.

A cold at this time if neglected is liable to cause pneumonia which is so often fatal, and even when the patient has recovered, lungs are weakened, making them peculiarly susceptible to the development of consumption. A Word to Farmers. I desire to call your attention to the fact that I have completed a new line of circulars on Zoology, and have fully described the nature of diseases in animals, which I propose to give away. They give more instruction than most any veterinary doctor's book and will guide you how to detect the approach and arrest diseases in your animals before it is too late. Now, if you are not fully informed as to the principal success to veterinary practice, it will pay you to investigate. Write me and I will send you a circular by return mail free of charge, and make plain a way in which you can obtain a sure cure for your animals at a reasonable price. Will also answer many questions that may occur to you. In defence of this view of the nature of diseases in animals forms a key by which I propose to unlock the mystery and it is based upon the platform that I have found a remedy which has succeeded in my hands and the hands of many others and will detect the approach of disease before it has fastened itself upon the system. Wishing you a happy New Year, and thanking you for past favors, I am yours for a glorious success. Jonah Marsee. Weak or Sick Women are Invited to Consult Doctor Pierce, by Letter, FREE.

The offer of free consultation by letter, made by Dr. Pierce, affords every sick woman an opportunity to obtain the opinion of a specialist on her condition without charge or fee. Think what that means.

For more than thirty years Dr. R. V. Pierce has been treating and curing the diseases peculiar to women. As chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., assisted by his medical staff of nearly a score of physicians, Dr. Pierce has treated and cured hundreds of thousands of weak and sick women. The success of Dr. Pierce's treatment is proved by the fact that forty-nine women out of every fifty who have followed his advice have been perfectly and permanently cured.

There is no similar offer of free medical advice which has behind it a specialist of Dr. Pierce's skill and success. No similar offer puts at the free service of women the entire facilities of an institution of national fame such as the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., with its medical staff of nearly a score of physicians, every man a specialist.

The largest fee ever charged by a physician for consultation cannot buy a better or more valuable medical opinion than Dr. Pierce offers you free.

All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential, and the written confidences of women are guarded by the same strict professional privacy observed by Dr. Pierce and his staff in personal consultations with women at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

For the Farmer, Trader and Housewife

Stock Items, Dairy Notes, Horse Talk, Crop Gossip, Etc.

Buy seed corn in the ear if possible. You can then see what you are getting and don't need to raise a crop before you can tell what you have. Buying in the ear generally brings the best corn the seller has.

With all fruits the mistake is often made of planting too many varieties and in this way increasing the cost of growing.

The farmers and stock men of Grant and Kenton counties have organized a Horse and Mule Protective Association, the object of which is to protect themselves from theft and to prosecute the thieves. The association begins business with 125 members.

The failure of trees to fruit is usually due to one or two causes, lack of available plant food in the soil or too much top allowed.

The "penny royal" cow could get along in summer with the feed that nature supplies. The modern milk manufacturing cow needs concentrated feed winter and summer.

Examine the branches of the fruit trees for rings of caterpillar eggs. Cut them off and burn with the branches on which they are found.

J. B. Adams, member of the nursery firm of P. P. Adams & Son, of Waco, says the report that all the fruit is killed, is a mistake. He says that the apples and cherries, and small fruits of all kinds are yet safe, and that some varieties of early peaches are safe too, at present, and that there will probably be a good crop from common seedlings. The prospects were never better for strawberries and berries of all kinds.

Whenever fruit grafting is used in the winter the plants should not be set out in the spring unless the grafts have grown together.

This has been a very hard winter on the cattle that are being shipped at the many distilleries, and some of the shippers have suffered very heavy losses. Lillard brothers, who have their cattle at the Cedar Brook plant, have lost upwards of fifty, and Cole & Marks, who are feeding at Blakemore's lost eight cattle in one night during the recent cold weather. The other shippers in the county also report heavy losses.

It is useless to plant fruit trees unless they are vigorous, hardy and productive of fruit that will not only keep well, but that will sell well to consumers.

An exchange says: Times have changed wonderfully and so have market conditions. The great packers no longer want three or four year old steers. They say send us baby beef, or in other words plump, well fed two-year-olds. They do not want the big coarse aged cattle and we are glad of it, as there is twice the profit in a well bred and well fed two-year-old steer. The aim should be to breed and feed for early maturity and good finish. Extra good baby beefs bring $2.50 to $3 more per cwt. than the big coarse animals.

Rather the best method of applying wood ashes to fruit trees is as a top dressing, scattering them out as far around the trees as the limbs extend. It is pretty safe to conclude that the roots extend as far out as the branches.

Mr. L. Miller, of the Ferguson farm sold to Tom S. Elkin one fat cow weighing 1,475 pounds at $31.

Mr. Robert Moore, of Columbia, Tennessee, bought a handsome pair of sorrel mares last week for which he paid $330. F. R. Estes, also of Columbia, Tenn., purchased a fine pair of mares mules for $400.

McClintock & Son, of Millersburg, sold last week eleven mules for the Southern market at from $117 to $200 per head; to Wm. Shoemaker, a pair 3-year-old mares mules for $240.

Genie Owens, of the Ilseville neighborhood, sold a 3-year-old horse mule to Henry Branstetter for $115.

Col. Emmott Logan, of Louisville, last week purchased a pair of mules, 46 hands high, six and seven years old and weighing 1,200 pounds a piece for $360.

J. W. Turley, of Richmond, purchased Friday of last week from A. Hicks, of Boyle county, a three-year-old jack 16 1/2 hands high for $500.

Hay made another advance in the local market. Loose hay has gone up from $13 to $14 a ton, while baled hay is selling from $15 to $16 a ton. The steady increase is due to the fact that the farmers are so busy that they do not have the time to bring their hay to town. Corn is also very steady at $2.60 per barrel.

READ IT THROUGH.

'Twould Spoil This Story to Tell It In the Headlines.

To use an eighteenth century phrase, this is an "old true tale." Having happened in a small Virginia town in the winter of 1902, it is a story very much of the present. Up to a short time ago Mrs. John E. Harmon, of Melba Station, Va., had no personal knowledge of the rare curative properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"Last January," she says, "my baby took a dreadful cold and at one time I feared she would have pneumonia, but one of my neighbors told me how this remedy had cured her little boy and I began giving it to my baby at once and it soon cured her. I heartily thank the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for placing so great a cure within my reach. I cannot recommend it too highly or say too much in its favor. I hope all who read this will try it and be convinced as I was." For sale by all druggists. 1m

One day we saw a man at the shop having a lot of old sulky rake teeth straightened. He is local agent and expert builder of the popular woven wire fence and uses the rods thumped to drive down between posts to stay the fence and prevent sagging when the wires are loaded with ice; also prevents pigs going under. He says it helps greatly. Fence is attached to rods with copper wire.

The first organization of record of farmers for their betterment, was in England about the middle of the 14th century. It had several of the characteristics of the Farmers' alliance of the last part of the 19th century, tho' its inspirative causes were quite dissimilar of course.

A Remarkable Case.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Penner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I run down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure.
